

IN WAR,
THE FIRST AND LAST
CASUALTY IS THE CHILD

While children are often adaptable, the trauma, dislocation, injury, lack of education and other effects of war can lead to long term effects which blight the entire life of that person.

The above saying is adapted from the quote about 'In war, the first casualty is truth', attributed in various forms to everyone from the ancient Greek Aeschylus to an early 20th century USA politician.
