

Which Thales would you prefer?

① Thales of Miletus

Ancient Greek scientist & philosopher, born c.624 BCE.

Sought to understand the world and how it works, 'founder of western philosophy', and originator of many scientific theories.

② Thales

An International armaments company and the largest arms manufacturer in Ireland with plants in Belfast and Co Down making missiles, most prominently Starsteak.

It facilitates destruction and supplies missiles to whoever will pay (56 countries).

Science must be wedded to non-violence if it is to lead to the welfare of all and Science wedded to violence shall result in the annihilation of mankind.
