

Lettuce work for peas

One key element in curbing climate change is dealing with agriculture. If humanity's appetite for meat and dairy products grows at the rate currently projected, by 2050 agriculture could use up the earth's entire global warming emissions budget***

So - to avoid the catastrophes and violence associated with climate change, we need a much more plant-based (vegetarian/vegan) diet....

* Chatham House/Royal Institute of International Affairs, London, 2014 report, <http://www.chathamhouse.org/>