

The image features a bronze statue of two men, 'Hands Across the Divide', standing on a bridge. The man on the left is reaching out with his right hand, and the man on the right is reaching out with his left hand, their hands just inches apart. Two speech bubbles are positioned between them. The background is a clear, light blue sky.

One step forward.....

Another step back.....

The peace process in Northern Ireland

'Hands Across the Divide' statue, Bridge Street, Derry/Londonderry