keep it
that way...

Dalradian are gold
diggers....

** the original Golden Rule is "Do to others as you would like them to do to you"....so will Dalradian executives be welcoming gold mines in their back yards?

Go walking in the Sperrins, not walking all over
them with goldmining....

GOLD

Dalradian
extractivism
Gold for the rich, toxicity
for the rest

A heavy, relatively unreactive metal with a yellowish hue. Limited use in the modern era except as a store of wealth for the already rich and for personal adornment. Most is stored, unused, in vaults where it never sees the light of day so there is already far too much for positive use. Extracting it is disruptive and toxic. Valuable because it is considered valuable.

It will be a golden
moment
when mining
permission is denied...

Gold or(e) a more sensible
approach to the countryside.....

*If there is already too much gold in the world, why is Dalradian mine
needed?*

Let's have dhal not Dalradian

Gold - the original cryptocurrency?

Why???

Cyanide is not a soft drink.....

Goldilocks
says - Keep the gold
locked in the ground

GOLD AS A GOAL IS GROTESQUE

Gold
bars
the poor

Despite assurances not to use cyanide locally, if they get planning Dalradian will either use it elsewhere or try to get permission to use it on site.
